COMMUNICATIONS

Brochures and Other Materials:

AJCC's recruitment brochures and other materials that are ordinarily distributed or communicated in written and/or oral form, electronically and/or on paper to staff, clients, or the public at large, to describe programs financially assisted under WIOA Title I or the requirements for participation by participants must indicate that the WIOA Title I-financially assisted program or activity in question is an "equal opportunity employer/program," and that "auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities." Materials that indicate an AJCC telephone number for contact must also include a TTY number.

Media:

AJCCs that publish or broadcast program information in the news media must ensure that such publications and broadcasts state that the WIOA Title I-financially assisted program or activity in question is an equal opportunity employer/program (or otherwise indicate that discrimination in the WIOA Title I-financially assisted program or activity is prohibited by Federal law) and indicate that auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities.

AJCCs must not communicate any information that suggests, by text or illustration, that the recipient treats beneficiaries, registrants, applicants, participants, employees or applicants for employment differently on any prohibited basis, except as such treatment is otherwise permitted under federal law or regulation.

Orientations and Information Sessions:

During each presentation to orient new participants, new employees, and/or the general public to WIOA Title I-financially assisted programs or activities, whether in person or over the internet or using other technology, AJCCs must include a discussion of rights and responsibilities under the nondiscrimination and equal opportunity provisions of WIOA Section 188 and 29 CFR Part 38, including the right to file a complaint of discrimination with the AJCC, Los Angeles County WDACS, or the Director of the Civil Rights Center (CRC). This information must be communicated in appropriate languages and in formats accessible for individuals with disabilities.

Additionally, as mandated by the California Dymally-Alatorre Bilingual Services Act (DABSA) and, as further supported in each AJCC Subaward Statement of Work with the County, AJCCs that serve a "substantial number of non-English-speaking people," must employ a "sufficient number of qualified bilingual staff in public contact positions" and translate documents explaining available services in their participants' language.

AFFIRMATIVE OUTREACH

AJCCs must take appropriate steps to ensure that they are providing equal access to their WIOA Title I-financially assisted programs and activities. These steps should involve reasonable efforts to include members of the various groups including, but not limited to, persons of different sexes, various racial and ethnic/national origin groups, various religions, Limited English Proficient (LEP) individuals, individuals with disabilities, and individuals in different age groups. Such efforts may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Advertising the AJCC's programs and/or activities in media such as newspapers or radio programs that specifically target various populations.
- Sending notices about openings in the AJCC's programs and/or activities to schools or community service groups that serve various populations.
- Consulting with appropriate community service groups about ways in which the AJCC may improve its outreach and service to various populations.

DISCRIMINATION PROHIBITED BASED ON DISABILITY

In providing any aid, benefit, service, or training under a WIOA Title I-financially assisted program or activity, whether directly or through sub-contracting, licensing, or other arrangements, on the basis of disability, an AJCC must not do any of the following:

- Deny a qualified individual with a disability the opportunity to participate in or benefit from the aid, benefit, service, or training, including meaningful opportunities to seek employment and work in competitive integrated settings.
- Afford a qualified individual with a disability an opportunity to participate in or benefit from the aid, benefits, services, or training that is not equal to that afforded others.
- Provide a qualified individual with a disability with any aid, benefit, service, or training that is not as effective in affording equal opportunity to obtain the same result, to gain the same benefit, or to reach the same level of achievement as that provided to others.
- Provide different, segregated, or separate aid, benefit, service, or training to individuals with disabilities, or to any class of individuals with disabilities, unless such action is necessary to provide qualified individuals with disabilities with any aid, benefit, service, or training that is as effective as those provided to others, and consistent with the requirements of the Rehabilitation Act as amended by the WIOA, including those provisions that prioritize opportunities in competitive integrated employment.
- Deny a qualified individual with a disability the opportunity to participate as a member of planning or advisory boards.
- Otherwise limit a qualified individual with a disability in enjoyment of any right, privilege, advantage, or opportunity enjoyed by others receiving any aid, benefit, service, or training.

Accessibility Requirements:

No qualified individual with a disability may be excluded from participation in, or be denied the benefits of an AJCC's service, program, or activity or be subjected to discrimination by any AJCC because an AJCC's facilities are inaccessible or unusable by individuals with disabilities. AJCCs that are subject to Title II of ADA of 1990 must also ensure that new facilities or alterations of facilities that began construction after January 26, 1992, comply with the applicable federal accessible design standards, such as the ADA Standards for Accessible Design (1991 or 2010) or the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards.

In addition, AJCCs must meet accessibility obligations under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the implementing regulations at 29 CFR Part 32. Some AJCCs may be subject to additional accessibility requirements under other statutory authority, including Title III of the ADA that is not enforced by the CRC. As indicated in CFR Part 29 Section 38.3(d)(10), compliance with this part does not affect an AJCCs obligation to comply with the applicable ADA Standards for Accessible Design.

All AJCC WIOA Title I-financially assisted programs and activities must be programmatically accessible. This includes providing reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities, making reasonable modifications to policies, practices, and procedures, administering programs in the most integrated setting appropriate, communicating with persons with disabilities as effectively as with others, and providing appropriate auxiliary aids or services, including assistive technology devices and services, where necessary to afford individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate in, and enjoy the benefits of, the program or activity.

Reasonable Accommodation and Reasonable Modifications for Individuals with Disabilities:

With regard to any aid, benefit, service, training, and employment, an AJCC must provide reasonable accommodations to qualified individuals with disabilities who are applicants, registrants, eligible applicants/registrants, participants, employees, or applicants for employment, unless providing the accommodation would cause undue hardship. For more information on what would constitute undue hardship as it relates to a reasonable accommodation of individuals with disabilities, please see the definition of "undue burden or undue hardship" found in 29 CFR Section 38.4(rrr)(1).

With regard to any aid, benefit, service, training, and employment, an AJCC must also make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures when the modifications are necessary to avoid discrimination on the basis of disability, unless making the modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of the service, program, or activity, which would constitute a fundamental alteration. For more information, see the definition of "fundamental alteration" found in 29 CFR Section 38.4(z).

In those circumstances where an AJCC believes that the proposed accommodation would cause undue hardship, or the proposed modification would fundamentally alter the program, the AJCC has the burden of proving that compliance with this section would result in such hardship and alteration. The AJCC must make the decision that the accommodation would cause such hardship or result in such alteration only after considering all factors listed in the definitions of "undue hardship" and "fundamental alteration." The decision must be accompanied by a written statement of the AJCC's reasons for reaching that conclusion. The AJCC must provide a copy of the statement of reasons to the individual(s) who requested the accommodation or modification.

If a requested accommodation would result in undue hardship or a modification would result in a fundamental alteration, the AJCC must take any other action that would not result in such hardship or such alteration but would nevertheless ensure that individuals with disabilities receive the aid, benefits, services, training or employment provided by the AJCC.

In addition, an AJCC must take appropriate steps to ensure that communications with individuals with disabilities, such as beneficiaries, registrants, applicants, eligible applicants/registrants, participants, applicants for employment, employees, members of the public, and their companions are as effective as communications with others.

A Reasonable Accommodation Policy and Procedure Guide (Attachment 3 of EDD Directive WSD 17-01 Nondiscrimination and Equal Opportunity Procedures) should be used when processing reasonable accommodation requests. This document should contain two sections: (1) provide general guidance and definitions for use when processing reasonable accommodation requests, and (2) provide step-by-step instructions on how to process these requests.

Service Animals:

Generally, an AJCC shall modify its policies, practices, or procedures to permit the use of a service animal by an individual with a disability.

Mobility Aids and Devices:

An AJCC must permit individuals with mobility disabilities to use wheelchairs and manually-powered mobility aids, such as walkers, crutches, canes, braces, or other similar devices designed for use by individuals with mobility disabilities, in any areas open to pedestrian use. An AJCC must make reasonable modifications in its policies, practices, or procedures to permit the use of other power-driven mobility devices by individuals with mobility disabilities, unless the AJCC can demonstrate that the class of other power-driven mobility devices cannot be operated in accordance with legitimate safety requirements that the AJCC has adopted.

Medical or Disability-Related Information:

Any medical or disability-related information obtained about a particular individual, including information that could lead to the disclosure of a disability, must be collected on separate forms. All such information, whether in hard copy, electronic, or both, must be maintained in one or more separate files, apart from any other information about the individual, and treated as confidential. Whether these files are electronic or hard copy, they must be locked or otherwise secured (e.g., through password protection).
